seeking a settlement. The sources said he thought this country's earlier peace efforts had been handicapped by unwillingness to state the government's position in credible terms.

Moreover, he was described as feeling that propagandists on both sides had so obscured the basic issues that, at this point, it is difficult to tell where either side stands.

Perhaps the most surprising attitude attributed to Johnson was a view that, should his administration end now, history would judge him harshly because of Viet Nam.

Sources said it was not accidental that the summary of his views included references to failures reminiscent of his language in a telephone address to the AFL-CIO convention Dec. 10, in which he mentioned failings, failures and shortcomings.

It was in that speech that Johnson said he was "determined that every prospect for peace be exhausted before other hard steps are taken" in Viet Nam.

Some other highlights of Johnson's views at the start of 1966: — His biggest disappointment last year stemmed from frustrations he faced in Viet Nam. He got greatest personal satisfaction from progress in civil rights.

— The President thinks laws already on the books mark the end of the Negro's search for liberty and equality and the start of another, more difficult search for true brotherhood with the white majority.

— Johnson hopes to strengthen personal ties with European leaders through some foreign travel in the months ahead. A meeting in France with President Charles de Gaulle is a possibility.

— The President was disappointed by lack of progress in improving American-Soviet relations in 1965. He hopes 1966 will produce better results in this area.

— He believes the Dominican Republic crisis had some beneficial consequences but will await the verdict of history on the ultimate results of American military intervention.

— The "welfare state" is dead as a political issue, Johnson believes, because in his view the great majority of Americans feel the federal government has a responsibility to promote opportunity through social welfare programs.

— Johnson is satisfied with the latest national polls showing 62 per cent or more approve his

A Japanese proverb advises, "never rely on the glory of the morning or the smile of your mother-in-law." But a study by sociologist Robert O. Blood, Jr., of the University of Michigan has disclosed that, as often as not, in-laws are a help to a young couple rather than a problem.

Odd legislation: A Midwest town once had an ordinance forbidding women shoppers to try on more than six dresses in any one store.

President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers, and Cabinet members have joined the President in condemning the Bethlehem price hike.

The government contends the firm also may be open to a charge of profiteering if it does not rescind the increase. Sources said Bethlehem's profits for the first nine months of 1965 were 83 per cent above 1963 figures for that period, reflecting the healthy profit trend in the steel industry.

Living Cost Higher Now for Everyone

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of living is higher now for most American families than ever before. Most base their planning on the likelihood it will go still higher.

This is the simple arithmetic of family budgets. The variations in the government's monthly Consumer Price Index seem to make little difference. Nor is the current hassle over the need to ward off further monetary inflation likely to mean much to most families.

What does matter is the monthly bills. And, for one reason or another, they tend to be higher.

The government's Consumer Price Index nicknamed the cost of living index, marks the average across the country of the cost of goods and services the typical family is presumed to buy.

Some prices are fairly stable across the land, but others vary from region to region, city to city. Transportation costs, rents, even interest charges on mortgages vary, for example. And so the government index for your region may be higher or lower than the average for the nation as a whole.

Prices of a few basic items are lower now than a few years back. Then why does the family outlay always seem to climb a bit year after year?

One reason is the demand of the family itself for more expensive goods. It doesn't settle today for the quality it accepted in yesteryears. It is living higher on the hog.

The family demands, and gets, improved products. Producing these improvements may have added to the store price. Most families wouldn't go back to wood burning kitchen stoves and root cellars even if they could save money by giving up electric or gas stoves and freezers.

Families also pay more now for conveniences once unavailable — whether it be sliced bread, or seafood flown in from the coasts, or vegetables frozen after cleaning and often after cooking.

"This is a real increase," Myers said of the November rise.

Child's Heart In Danger If Rheumatic Fever Hits

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Rheumatic fever may affect the joints, blood vessels, skin or brain but the chief danger is rheumatic heart disease. Unlike such infectious diseases, commonly seen in children, as chickenpox, mumps and measles, one attack of rheumatic fever does not confer a lasting immunity. The immediate cause of rheumatic fever is unknown but it almost always follows a streptococcal sore throat, tonsillitis or scarlet fever.

Rheumatic fever is not catching but the streptococcal infection that precedes it is. Every sore throat in a child should be seen by your doctor, who will take a throat swab for culture. Although rheumatic fever may occur in adults it usually has its onset between the ages of 5 and 15 and the initial attack may last weeks or even months.

The diagnosis is often difficult because the disease has no symptoms of its own and the symptoms will vary depending on which tissues are involved. Usually there is a fever of 101 or 102. If the joints are affected the joint pains may be mild, but it is a grave error to attribute them to growing pains — a term that we now know has no real meaning. It is a mistake, too, to try to decide for yourself whether your child has rheumatic fever. Even your doctor can rarely tell without laboratory tests.

An increased sedimentation rate is an indication of infection and is of value, not only in piecing together the evidence necessary to make the diagnosis, but also in determining whether a subsiding infection is completely cured. Once the diagnosis is made bed rest is essential to protect the heart. In addition, a variety of drugs may be given. These include aspirin, phenylbutazone, cortisone, sulfonamides and penicillin. The latter is especially valuable in the prevention of subsequent attacks.

Although recent studies indicate that the child who comes through an initial attack of rheumatic fever without any heart involvement is unlikely to get such an involvement in a subsequent attack, he should be protected against recurrences with long-acting penicillin. If, on the other hand, there has been some damage to the heart such protection is doubly important and the child should have a periodic physical checkup by your doctor.

Buildings For Sale—Sealed Bids

The undersigned as attorney and agent for the owners will offer for sale by sealed bids the following buildings now located at 16th and South Main Streets, Hope, Arkansas:

- One frame dwelling house.
- One frame garage and utility house.

On the following terms and conditions to-wit:

- Bids will be received on each, or both, houses up to twelve noon on January 6, 1966. The sale will be for cash.
- Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's check for 10% of the bid payable to the undersigned or order. Said deposit will be returned to all unsuccessful bidders. In case of a successful bidder, the 10% deposit will be applied on the purchase money. If a successful bidder fails to consummate the deal, the 10% so deposited will be applied by the owners as liquidated damages. The buildings may be inspected by contacting Vance Marcum.
- The successful bidder or bidders will be required to remove the buildings from the site within a reasonable time, and leave the grounds free of debris.
- The sealed bids will be opened at 1:30 P.M. on January 6, 1966, at the office of James H. Pilkinton, Attorney, 116 East Second Street, Hope, Arkansas.
- The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids submitted; and no bid will be considered unless received by or delivered to the undersigned at his office on or before noon on January 6, 1966, nor unless accompanied by a cashier's check for 10% of the bid or bids as set out above.

These buildings are in good shape, and must be sold and removed from the site to make way for the construction of a new Funeral Home and Chapel to be occupied by Oakcrest Mortuary of Hope, Arkansas.

Happenings in World on the Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The world awoke to a new year of promise and problems Saturday, along with some major hangovers from the old year.

The war in Viet Nam continued, but so did the American peace offensive, drawing new impetus from the further pleas of Pope Paul VI. In Viet Nam, U.S. paratroopers pressed a big drive into Viet Cong territory 35 miles northwest of Saigon. In other ground actions, the Communists overran a coastal district headquarters, suffered the brunt of two Allied offensives that cost them a reported 190 lives, and inflicted heavy casualties on a Vietnamese force. The United States cessation of bombing North Viet Nam went into its 10th day.

On the peace front, U.S. diplomats, including Arthur J. Goldberg and W. Averell Harriman, circled the globe presenting the aims of the U.S. peace offensive to world leaders. Pope Paul VI renewed his personal attempts to still the fighting, with appeals for peace to Hanoi, Moscow, Peking and Saigon. There was no affirmative reaction from the Communist capitals. But in another New Year's Day message, North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh urged the Viet Cong to continue the fight against the United States. And Pravda, the Soviet Communist party organ, accused the United States of planning to extend the war despite "notorious attempts to find ways to achieve peace."

The new year also brought a new mayor and a transit strike to New York City — both of them fashioned in 1965.

John V. Lindsay, 44-year-old former congressman who won election last November, became the city's first Republican mayor in 20 years. He was sworn in New Year's Eve, just five minutes before Michael J. Quill, president of the AFL-CIO, Transport Workers Union broke off transit negotiations. At 5 a.m. New Year's Day, the subway and bus strike went into effect, giving Lindsay his first major crisis as mayor and leaving the city's 8 million and the millions of commuters in surrounding areas without their major means of transportation.

Tax changes bearing the stamp "made in '65" also went into effect with the start of 1966. Social Security taxes took a $5.1-billion annual jump while excise taxes dropped by one-third that amount. The Medicare-Social Security tax maximum jumped from $174 to $277.20 a year for those earning $6,600 or more annually. The excise tax on telephone calls and the passenger car manufacturers' tax were reduced; canceled were such taxes as the cabaret tax and the general admission tax on theaters, movies, race tracks and athletic events, among others.

The final day of 1965 also brought a price hike likely to be felt in 1966. Bethlehem Steel Corp. announced a $5-a-ton price increase on steel products representing 7 per cent of the market. This increase, effective Jan. 1, drew speedy criticism from President Johnson and his

The record toll passed last New Year's traffic death count of 471 early Sunday. The lowest toll for any New Year's holiday since World War II was 269 during the three-day period of 1949-1950.

The New Year deaths, however, were still far short of the all-time holiday traffic death count of 720 set during the three-day Christmas period.

An Associated Press survey of a non-holiday weekend of the same length as the New Year holiday showed 420 deaths in traffic. The survey was made from 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9, to midnight Sunday, Dec. 12.

The National Safety Council said the final toll for the New Year weekend could reach 600 if the death pace did not slacken. Before the start of the holiday period, the council had estimated between 380 and 440 persons would be killed during the 78 hours between 6 p.m. (local time) Thursday to midnight Sunday.

A safety council statement of the New Year record said, "It's clear that the nation can't depend on mere horror to terrify drivers into safe highway behavior."

Safety officials also said that there was little comfort that the New Year's toll was less than the Christmas toll, since fewer persons travel on the year-end holiday.

New Year's was the sixth holiday period in recent months to set a national record for traffic deaths.

In addition to Christmas, the 1965 Thanksgiving, Labor Day, Fourth of July and Memorial Day weekends established records for long weekend observances of those holidays.

The Thanksgiving holiday period cost 615 lives, Labor Day 564, Fourth of July 551, and Memorial Day 474.

A Transit Strike Hits New York

By JERRY BUCK

NEW YORK (AP) — A two-day-old transit strike hits New York with full force today as millions head for work after the holiday weekend.

The New Year's Day walkout of bus and subway employees threatens to cut sharply into virtually every activity in the city — and produce a traffic tieup that could leave Manhattan immobile.

If enough motorists ignore Mayor John V. Lindsay's pleas to stay home, the city's streets could become as snarled as the contract negotiations between the Transit Authority and the striking unions.

Principals in the negotiations get back to the bargaining table early today.

Michael J. Quill, head of the Transport Workers Union, AFL-CIO, the man who called the strike, was due to appear in State Supreme Court today to answer a show-cause order.

As hopes for an early settlement brightened Sunday night, then suddenly faded, the nation's largest city put into effect emergency measures to handle the 7.4 million persons who normally ride the subways and buses every working day.

Extra commuter trains and buses were added, emergency parking and taxi regulations were applied, and schools were closed. But above all else, Mayor Lindsay urged people not to drive automobiles in the city except on absolutely essential business.

The strike is expected to cost stores an estimated $40 million a day in lost sales. The 33,000 bus and subway employees walked off the job in defiance of a court injunction at 5 a.m. Saturday — just five hours after Lindsay took office as the city's first Republican mayor in 20 years.

Chief economic adviser, Gardner Ackley, Ackley and others on the President's Council of Economic Advisers met with Bethlehem officials New Year's Day but he said later there was no indication that the price would be rolled back. Ackley called the raise "unjustified and inflationary." Johnson had urged the company to meet with the council.

And another grim start for 1966 was the death of more than 500 Americans on the nation's highways over the New Year's holiday weekend.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bittel

Response To "Angel on Loan"

Dear Readers: A supermarket where I trade carries a big sign up front, "Our customers are the nicest people in the world." I say the same thing about my readers, and you've proved it again with your response to "Needing Assurance," who had an "Angel on Loan." Your letters of encouragement are being sent to her as fast as I receive them.

Here are samples:

Dear N. A.: We had a similar experience in our family. Our baby stayed with us ten months. She was in pain but a little kiss would bring a smile to her lips. I'm sure she sensed our love. It was the one thing we could give her, and though those months were full of sorrow, they also brought our family very close. So keep your angel with you, N.A. She'll carry your love with her when she goes, and you will be comforted by knowing you gave her all you could give. — C.P.

Dear Helen: My husband's death was faced with a problem similar to "Needing Assurance's." The doctors advised her that her first child couldn't live. This wonderful woman fed her baby with an eye-dropper and prayed. When the child was about seven, a series of operations (financed by a kind family friend) corrected the cleft palate, although there was nothing to be done about one arm that was only elbow length.

The girl grew to womanhood with five brothers and sisters who adore her. She was the one everyone turned to for help. This child who was kept alive with an eye-dropper is now the mainstay of her family. I'll pray that it happens this with N.A., but no matter what, I KNOW she'll be happier keeping her baby near her, giving her the love she couldn't get in an institution. — Mrs. W.

Dear Helen: Three cheers for "Needing Assurance!" Her friends who urge her to choose the State Hospital for her doomed baby are modern and efficient. They are urging her to raise her children the same way a farmer raises his fruit trees — cut off the weak branches so that the strong ones will be even stronger. But she isn't raising fruit trees. If she were to let that helpless little thing die in a State Hospital, the callous consciences of her friends would not be bothered — hers would. But I don't really worry about what she will do. I already know. It's just nice to read in a newspaper, for a change, that there are still people left who have natural love and feeling and compassion. — Ernest H.

en stronger. But she isn't raising fruit trees. If she were to let that helpless little thing die in a State Hospital, the callous consciences of her friends would not be bothered — hers would. But I don't really worry about what she will do. I already know. It's just nice to read in a newspaper, for a change, that there are still people left who have natural love and feeling and compassion. — Ernest H.

Dear Helen: A few state hospitals are quite excellent but in other states, hospitals for the mentally ill or handicapped are no better than snake pits — even in our modern age. This partly because no one wants to work with this depressing group and the pay isn't enough to attract well-trained people, even if they were so inclined. "Psychiatric technician" is a fine sounding title, but it means no more than a strong-arm man or woman who gets less than a janitor's wages. Too often people who might have been saved are tossed into grim, forbidding buildings, with no real psychiatric care, to exist until they die.

As for love — the only thing N.S.'s little angel needs in the short time she has left — who, in a state hospital, has time to offer love? Such hospitals are chronically understaffed, from psychiatrists down to volunteer nurses, aids. There's no time and little inclination to think of these people as anything more than bodies who breathe. —

There Goes That Labruzzo Popping Through Again

DALLAS, Texas, Jan. 2 — LABRUZZO STRETCHES FOR FIRST Down — Joe Labruzzo, (22) LSU tailback, who scored both touchdowns in his team's 14-7 upset victory over Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl, plunges and stretches through the Arkansas line for a 2 yard gain and a much-needed first down. Labruzzo powered the LSU team to end Arkansas' winning streak at 22.

Green Bay Beats Browns for Pro Title

Texas, an undefeated team, 13-0 in the Cotton Bowl and didn't fumble or have a pass intercepted. Texas fumbled twice and had three passes nabbed by the Tigers.

The story of the Cotton Bowl game Saturday can be told in a few words: Louisiana State did not make mistakes, Arkansas did.

The big plays came to the Tigers too.

On the first Louisiana State touchdown that tied the score in the second period—Arkansas got its only touchdown in the first period on a pass from Jon Brittenum to Bobby Crockett—a big play kept the Tiger drive going.

It was second down and 16 to go on the Arkansas 49. Pat Screen threw a pass that line-backer Tommy Sain of Arkansas peeped into the air. It fell into the arms of a surprised Billy Masters of Louisiana State on the Arkansas 35. Jim Dousay hammered out two yards for the first down and the Tigers rumbled on to a touchdown.

Brittenum was hurt midway of the second period and had to be relieved by Ronny South. Obviously rusty at ball handling, South fumbled a handoff on his second play and line-backer Bill Bass recovered on the Arkansas 31. Louisiana State then rolled to the winning touchdown.

There were other big plays—Jerry Joseph intercepted a pass to stop an Arkansas drive that with 6:17 left in the game; massive tackle George Rice sped through on the blitz to knock Brittenum for a seven-yard loss on the Louisiana State 35 and Arkansas only had one more play. It was a 11-yard pass from Brittenum to Crockett on the Louisiana State 24 as time ran out.

Louisiana State failed to take advantage of only one opportunity. Bobby Nix kicked outside for only 19 yards to give the Tigers the ball on their 46 late in the third period.

The Tigers drove to the Arkansas two and Doug Moreau, the noted place-kicker of the Tigers, missed a field goal from the Razorback nine.

Joe Labruzzo, the stumpy Louisiana State tailback, was picked as outstanding back of the game. It was because he made the tough yardage when it came time to score. He carried four straight times for 18 yards and the first Louisiana State touchdown. He took the ball five times for 19 yards to hang up the second.

Tackle Dave McCormick led the offensive line in opening holes for Labruzzo to pour through and was picked as top lineman.

But the pro scouts were more attracted to Harry Jones of Arkansas because the 195-pound back not only weighed 23 pounds more than Labruzzo but he is a quick starter. Jones ran for 79 yards, caught a pass for 28 and took one kickoff back 24.

The pro scouts also were beguiled over Crockett, who caught 10 passes for 129 yards and a touchdown—a Cotton Bowl re-

Hornung and Taylor Lead Packer Win

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung, the old folks of the Green Bay Packers, have risen to the challenge of the $850,000 bonus twins. Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski.

The pair of 30-year-old Packer backs toted the heavy load Sunday in the snow, rain and fog while the old-fashioned ball control game carried the Packers to the National Football League title on a 23-12 victory over Cleveland's defending champions before 50,852 damp fans at Lambeau Field.

"Just a couple of oldtimers trying to hang on," chorused Taylor and Hornung laughingly in the Green Bay clubhouse.

Taylor, named the most valuable player in the game, carried 27 times for 96 yards. Hornung, the former Golden Boy of the pack, carried 18 times for 105 yards, including one beautiful 34-yard run and a 13-yard ramble on the old Green Bay touchdown sweep.

Ball control did the job for the Packers, a strategy dear to the heart of Coach Vince Lombardi.

"You have to control the ball against the Browns if you are going to beat them," said Lombardi. "We planned to stick to the basics. Yes, I think there is a little spark left yet in Jimmy and Paul."

Lombardi probably provided some of the spark when he signed Anderson, the fabulous Texas Tech halfback for a reported $600,000, and Grabowski, Illinois' record-breaking fullback, for a reported $250,000.

The way he snared the sideline passes over his shoulder to make an interception virtually impossible impressed the pros.

Taylor and Hornung aren't about to step aside for the rookies.

"Donny is going to be a great one," said Hornung, who was instrumental in getting Anderson to sign with the Packers. "I took him out in Baltimore and talked to him."

Asked if the high-priced rookies were going to elbow their way into the starting lineup next fall, Hornung said: "We'll wait and see about that next year."

Neither Anderson nor Grabowski was present since they are playing in the Hula Bowl in Honolulu.

Bart Starr, a doubtful starter all week because of the back bruises he suffered in the Western Conference playoff game with Baltimore, called a great game for Green Bay and completed 10 of 18 passes for 147 yards and one touchdown. His TD pass was a 47-yarder to Carroll Dale for the first score of the game.

"Starr called a great game," said Lombardi. "It was a tough day to throw. The ball was slippery, and the receivers couldn't make good cuts."

Lombardi wasn't kidding. It was a miserable day in Packerland. About 3½ inches of snow fell during the morning, and it snowed and rained intermittently during the afternoon as the temperature hovered around 33 degrees.

Yoman work by the city sanitation department and a crew of youngsters brushed the snow off the tarpaulin so the field was playable by game time. Despite the snow and ice there were no fumbles, and each team scored its first TD on a pass.

Starr hit Dale on the 47-yard score at 3:52 of the first quarter, and Cleveland came right back with a touchdown on a 17-yard pass from Frank Ryan to Gary Collins.

A bad break ruined the Browns' game plan following that first TD. John Morrow's pass from center was off line and fumbled by Bob Franklin, holding the ball for kicker Lou Groza.

Groza picked it up and fired a desperation forward pass to Franklin, who was caught on the 5-yard line by Willie Wood. Instead of a 7-7 tie, the Browns trailed 7-6.

Broyles Says Porkers Are Still Best

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Regulators of pork or even the Cotton Bowl loss, Arkansas has the finest football team in the nation. Coach Frank Broyles said Sunday.

"The longer you win, the harder it is to lose and we're disappointed," Broyles said. "But we're coming back."

The Tigers from Louisiana State sniped Arkansas 14-7 and ended the Razorbacks' longest winning streak among major colleges. Arkansas had won 22 straight.

Broyles said in a post-game television show here that "there is a lot of third-down plays we didn't win. We had good offense and a many things were but not anything real well, and that was a mistake."

"I knew it would take a perfect game to defeat us, and LSU had it," he said.

Broyles praised his senior players and said they had made these last two years wonderful. He said the seniors were already telling the juniors to start another winning streak. "I'm getting real sentimental here," Broyles said, "but I love our Razorbacks and

GREEN BAY, Wis., Jan. 2 — MUDDY GOING — Green Bay fullback Jimmy Taylor (31) bulls his way for short yardage against the Cleveland Browns. Taylor gained 96 yards and his efforts brought him the award of the most valuable player in the National Football League championship game. Cleveland tackle Dick M-dzelewski (74) brought him down on this play at Green Bay. In the background left is Packer quarterback Earl Starr. Others: Green Bay — Broyl Dowler (84), Ken Bowman (57); Cleveland — Jim Kanicki (69) — Green Bay won the championship game, 23 to 12.

Perfect Game by LSU Fatal to Arkansas

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS (AP) — A perfect game—no fumbles and no interceptions—and all of the big plays usually wins a football game.

That's why Louisiana State is unbeaten in the Cotton Bowl and has become the big snail of undefeated records.

Saturday the tigers, three times losers and 10-point underdogs, knocked over Arkansas 14-7 to remain unbeaten in the Cotton Bowl in three appearances.

It brought to an end college football's longest winning streak—22 straight games that had given Arkansas the Southwest Conference record.

Also Saturday, Louisiana State didn't fumble and neither did it. It had a pass intercepted. Arkansas had a fumble that set up the 14-1 Louisiana State touchdown, and a Tiger pass interception halted an Arkansas drive.

In 1947 Louisiana State outplayed Arkansas in a scoreless tie as the teams struggled in a snowstorm. The Tigers didn't fumble and they had no passes intercepted that day.

In 1963 Louisiana State beat

127½, Japan, knocked out Francisco Balag, 123½, Philippines, 8.

Dead Letter Laws

Over a period of 42 years, the crime committed most often in Washington, D. C., was selling ice cream cones.

It seems that in 1921 as a health measure, the sale of ice cream in less-than-pint containers was forbidden. Yet, through the years, millions of less-than-pint cones were sold in brazen defiance of the law. They were licked in sight by residents, tourists, Congressmen, perhaps even Supreme Court justices. Not until 1963 did Congress finally end the scandal by repealing this obsolete law.

In Elko, Nevada, crime ran even more rampant. A 1918 ordinance, passed during the great flu epidemic, required everybody to wear a flu mask in public places. Not until 1964 did the city council let people breathe easier by revoking the ordinance.

Hundreds of such laws remain on the books in various communities around the country. How does this happen?

The reason is simple: there is far more incentive to put a law on the books than to take it off. As the original stimulus for a law fades away, people gradually lose interest in it. No one obeys, no one complains, no one prosecutes.

Yet, these dead letter laws may do real harm. For one thing, they may give law enforcement officials too much leeway. If not probable, it is at least possible that a person might suddenly be prosecuted for doing something which he has been doing, in all innocence, for years.

Accordingly, as part of a board drive to modernize criminal law, bar associations and other attorney organizations are trying to clean out these legal anachronisms.

It is not an easy job. Some laws are plainly useless. But others, while rarely invoked, may still have a useful deterrent effect. Still others might represent a kind of gentleman's agreement whereby the com-

Gary Beban, a gambling, scrambling sophomore quarterback, and tenacious defender Bob Stiles.

Joe LaBruzzi, a chunky little line-buster.

And Steve Sloan, a spectacular marksman.

Those were the headlines as UCLA, Louisiana State and Alabama humbled college football's Big Three in a sensational string of bowl games New Year's Day.

Beban led the attack and Stiles performed magnificently on defense in UCLA's 14-12 upset of top-ranked Michigan State in the Rose Bowl. LaBruzzi was the back of the game as LSU topped second-ranked Arkansas 14-7 in the Cotton Bowl, ending the Razorbacks' winning streak at 22 games. And Sloan was a record-smashing passer in sparking Alabama over third-ranked Nebraska 39-28 in the Orange Bowl.

Each of the losers went into the post-season classic with a 10-0 record — and it was a sure shot bet that one of them would wind up as national champion.

But Saturday's surprises changed all that and Alabama, which was ranked No. 4 after an 8-1-1 regular season, must rate the leading contender of the title off its domination of Nebraska's massive Cornhuskers.

The championship will be decided in "The Associated Press" poll of experts, with results announced Tuesday.

In another post-season thriller Saturday, Missouri withstood the passing artistry of Steve Spurrier and edged Florida 20-18 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Beban scored both UCLA touchdowns, was an ever-dangerous running and passing threat, and quarterbacked the Bruins superbly. Stiles was a defensive standout all day, particularly in clutch situations. He intercepted two passes, setting munty salutes a moral standard in principle while ignoring it in practice.

But it is job well worth doing. No law should remain on the books for no better reason than that it has been forgotten.

up a TD on one with 42-yard return, and helped pull down Bob Apisa short of the goal when the Michigan State fullback went for the tying two-point conversion attempt in the closing seconds.

UCLA sunned the heavily favored Spartans with two second-quarter touchdowns and Kurt Zimmerman kicked the vital extra points. Michigan State got its two scores in the final period, but failed on two tries for two-point conversions.

LSU also scored its 14 points in the second quarter, overcoming a 7-0 lead held by the favored Razorbacks in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. LaBruzzi, a 5-foot-9 halfback, rammed over twice from the one for the Tigers, carrying four straight yards from the Arkansas 16 for his first touchdown and three times from the five for his second.

Sloan was an amazing sharpshooter as 'Bama ran off from Nebraska in their night game at Miami's Orange Bowl. Although hampered by a torn rib cartilage suffered in the opening period, he hit on 20 of 29 passes for 296 yards and two touchdowns. Ray Perkins caught 10 passes for the Crimson Tide, two for TDs.

Sloan's 20 completions and 296 yards and Perkins' 10 catches were Orange Bowl records.

Missouri went into the last quarter against Florida with a seemingly comfortable 20-0 lead, but Steve Spurrier made it edgy for the Tigers. He threw

Colleges Return to Basketball

By BOB GREEN

The college basketball rankings are due for a major reshuffling today as the nation's top teams happily turn their attention from the scores of holiday tournaments to conference races.

The tournament mania was bad news for most of the nationally ranked teams — five of them losing in major tournaments last week.

Still another, third-ranked Bradley, lost its lone regular for two touchdowns and scored another in the final period — but the stirring comeback proved futile for the Gators as they failed on two-point pass attempts after each touchdown.

Spurrier tried 45 passes and connected on 27 — both Sugar Bowl records — gaining 352 yards through the air.

In Friday's post-season action — sophomore Lenny Snow ran for 136 yards, leading Georgia Tech over Texas Tech 31-21 in the Gator Bowl; Texas Western upset Texas Christian 13-12 in the Sun owl; and Tod Hulin of Washington tossed three scoring strikes as the West beat the East 22-7 in the Shrine game at San Francisco.

season start, and the list of major college unbeaten dwindled to two — fifth-ranked Kentucky, 8-0, and unranked Texas Western, 10-0, winner of the Sun Bowl tournament.

No. 8 St. Joseph's, Pa., and No. 10 Providence were the only unscathed. St. Joe's, 9-2, won tournament action to escape the Quaker City, and Providence, 8-1, took the Holiday Festival in New York.

Top-ranked Duke shunned the tourneys and got a quick start in the Atlantic Coast Conference race with a come-from-behind 92-76 triumph over Wake Forest Saturday night.

The Missouri Valley and the SEC also opened last week. The Big Eight starts tonight, and action picks up in most of the others later in the week.

Georgia took Louisiana State 82-59 in the SEC opener, and Louisville beat St. Louis 84-80 in the Missouri Valley. Tonight the Big Eight opens with Kansas at Colorado, Oklahoma State at Oklahoma and Kansas State at Missouri.

The Atlantic Coast has Clemson at South Carolina and Maryland at North Carolina. The Southern Conference has Virginia Military at George Washington and The Citadel at East Carolina.

In the Southeastern, Alabama is at Florida, Mississippi State at Auburn, Louisiana State at Mississippi and Tulane at Tennessee.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An Oklahoma engineering firm, after making a comprehensive air transportation study of Little Rock airport facilities, has recommended a 20-year, $16 million development program.

The report recommended land acquisition, construction and relocation of runways, taxiways, aprons, new airport roads, fencing, relocation of navigational aids, air cargo area, air post service area, service roads, a new terminal and other projects.

Knocked off in tourney competition last week were No. 2 Vanderbilt in the Los Angeles Classic; Nov. 4 Iowa fell before Texas Western 86-68 in the Sun Bowl; No. 6 Brigham Young and No. 9 Minnesota lost in the Quaker City, and No. 7 Michigan in the Far West Classic.

Besides St. Joseph's and Providence, other major tourney winners included defending national champion UCLA in the Los Angeles Classic and Oregon State in the Far West Classic.

Only a handful of games were played Saturday, including New Mexico's 87-66 rout of Denver. Butler whipped Yale 75-67, and Drake won the Queen City tourney at Buffalo, N.Y., with a 65-52 decision over Holy Cross.

SW Basketball Title Race Goes Into Full Swing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The title race in Southwest Conference basketball starts this week. From the looks of inter-sectional play, it's going to be open season on all.

SWC teams lost 11 of 14 games last week, and the league's over-all inter-sectional record, with only two such contests to be played, stands at a dismal 23-29.

The drive for the championship gets under way Tuesday night. The games are Arkansas-Texas Christian at Fort Worth, Southern Methodist-Texas A&M at College Station, Texas Tech-Baylor at Waco and Texas at Austin.

The Razorbacks have the loop's best season record at 6-2. TCU has managed only 2-7.

Saturday's action calls for Texas-Southern Methodist at Dallas in a daytime TV game, Texas Tech-Arkansas at Fayetteville, also a day game, TCU-Baylor at Waco and Texas A&M-Rice at Houston.

A&M's John Beasley has taken the scoring lead with 224, replacing Doug McKendrick of Rice, who slipped to second place with 222.

SMU and Tech were the only conference teams that didn't lose last week but they only played one game each. SMU blasted Connecticut 80-66. Tech rolled over New Mexico State 109-87. SMU is now 5-5. Tech is 4-5.

Arkansas Bright Sun Carnival tournament at El Paso. The Hogs lost to Iowa 77-75 and beat Loyola 67-57.

The Aggies, now 5-4, met disaster at the All-College tournament at Oklahoma City, losing 101-74 to Virginia Tech, 98-86 to Xavier and 85-72 to Bowling Green.

TCU's fate was almost as bad at the Lobo tournament at Albuquerque. The Frogs went down 96-90 to Idaho and 82-80 to Tulane.

Texas got whipped twice at the American Legion tournament at Seattle. California nudged the Steers 82-77, and Seattle ran over them 95-80. Texas is now 4-5.

Baylor also lost its two outings, 96-88 to Connecticut and 78-77 to Trinity, to lower their record to 2-7.

Collar-dwelling Rice has lost all nine games so far. Last week they fell to Arkansas State 92-75 and to Rutgers 101-84, both games in the Arkansas States tournament at Jonesboro.

Brazil shares a common border with all other South American countries except Chile and Ecuador.

Paper Blizzard Some People We Forgot to Thank

Biggest problem of the average citizen this week is learning how to write "1966" on his letters and checks. But that's the least of the troubles that face the managers and staffs of business houses.

The year-end always has been significant to business. From the most ancient days businessmen have paused at New Year's to measure how they did in the 12 months past and to judge prospects for the coming year.

It was a moment of sad reckoning for the Chinese. If a business were tottering the creditors usually picked the year-end as the moment to wash it down the drain. Our English term "bankruptcy" is supposed to be derived from the Chinese custom of "breaking up the benches" of a tradesman judged to be in default.

So New Year's is a traditional time of reckoning, with the tedious routine of taking inventory and balancing credits and liabilities — only now it is far worse. Now Government has gotten into the act, and the relatively few records that the smallest of businesses must keep have ballooned into a paper blizzard.

What does Government do with all the records private Americans laboriously compile at this season? Put 'em away in the files, for the most part, never to be seen again.

They say there is no such thing as perpetual motion. But there is — it's the wheel of government reports, which once started turning manages to spin faster and faster by itself. But like true perpetual motion, which may run but can't produce any power, this revolving paper blizzard is a mere demonstration and chore to a working populace.

It never fails that when writing a Thank You note to a lot of people you forget someone.

We thanked a long list of firms and individuals last Thursday for the help that made it possible to get out The Star's first offset edition last Wednesday. But we forgot to mention the management and staff of Hope Transfer Co., whose help was second to none. All through the construction and installation months they were storing new machinery for us and shuttling newsprint rolls back and forth between the warehouse and the newspaper plant. We now store practically all our paper with Hope Transfer, having used up the storage space in The Star Building, which held two carloads, to house the big new press and the twin darkrooms required by the photographic offset system of printing. So a late but heartfelt Thank You to Hope Transfer and all its people.

And another Thank You to The Star's newsboys who stuck around the newspaper building until midnight waiting for that first offset issue last Wednesday. We're going back to the offset-production war later this week, when we expect to switch to the new printing system permanently.

But we can't get the next offset issue out on time. Like the man who had his first encounter with a bear, now we know how the critter behaves — and a newspaper crew armed with experience is in better shape than a week ago.

A Columnist Gets Much Data Both Good and Bad, From Just Opening Morning Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Some 37 million Americans will change their address during 1966, but most will find new homes within the county they are living in now.

The year may be new but the custom of celebrating the start of another year isn't. Ancient Romans exchanged New Year's greetings, and so did the Egyptians as early as the 6th century.

Powder Plant Strike Ends

EAST ALTON, Ill. (AP) —

Production of gunpowder for use in Viet Nam resumed today at the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. munitions plant after a month-long strike.

Union members voted over the weekend to accept a new contract and return to work today.

Pat McCain in Rac for County Clerk

The Star has been authorized to announce the candidacy of Mrs. Pat McCain, deputy County Clerk, for the office of County Clerk, subject to action of the Democratic primaries. Mrs. McCain issued the following statement:

"I would like to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for the office of County Clerk of Hempstead County. I have worked in this office for over two years and feel that I am qualified to do the work. It has been a pleasure working in this office and meeting and serving the people of this county.

"Since Mrs. Turnage was appointed to this office in February, 1965, upon Mr. Turnage's death, the law will not permit her to seek election this year. If I am elected, she and I will endeavor to carry on the work in the County Clerk's Office efficiently and to the best interests of all the citizens of Hempstead County.

"I will appreciate your vote and support in the coming Democratic Primary.

9 Ask Court for Ruling on Election

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Both sides asked the Arkansas Supreme Court today for a speedy ruling in a suit in which nine state senators are seeking to avoid having to run for reelection this year.

The senators won their case in Pulaski Chancery Court.

The nine are serving in districts which were not changed under a reapportionment plan adopted last year. They were elected in 1964 to four-year terms.

The senators are represented by William J. Smith, who said that case law from other jurisdictions supports the position that the senators should not have to run again because their districts were unchanged.

Smith, legal aide to Gov. Orval E. Faubus, said that if the Supreme Court sustains the senators' position, 26 state senators will run for four-year terms this year and the nine will run for four-year terms in 1968.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett's office is handling the case for the state. Bennett said the dispute was simply a legal question and that the suit was friendly.

3 Persons Die in Accidents in Hempstead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two accidents accounted for five deaths in Arkansas over the New Year's Holiday period, as the state followed the high national rate of traffic deaths.

An Associated Press count shows that 15 persons died from 6 p.m. Thursday to midnight Sunday.

Two Pochontas men, J. K. Hufstetler, 58, and John Davis, 61, died Saturday in a two-car, head-on collision near Walnut Ridge which also took the life of Mrs. Shirley Maxine Parker, 31, of Knoxville, Iowa. Four persons were injured in the accident, which happened 1½ miles south of Sedgwick on U.S. 63.

The parents of three children, CWO and Mrs. John Hunt of Ft. Hood, Tex., died in a two-car collision on U.S. 67 about 6 miles west of Hope Saturday. The Hunt children were hospitalized, as was the driver of the other car, Thomas McKay of Little Rock.

The three Hunt children were taken to a Terrell, Texas, hospital by a Herndon-Cornelius ambulance. Both the girls suffered broken legs and multiple fractures and bruises. Extent of the young boys' injuries were not known. However, it was reported that none of the children were in a critical condition.

Betty Ann Sowell, 16, of Little Rock, died Sunday of injuries received Thursday night in a one-car accident in Little Rock. Her car caught fire after it left a street and crashed through a garage.

Ben Johnson, 58, also of Little Rock, was killed Saturday when he was hit by a car in western Little Rock.

Killed in accidents Friday and Friday night were: Bob Pierce, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Pierce of Crossett, who died in a car-pickup truck collision on U.S. 82, about 6 miles east of Crossett.

Danner Will, 17, of Rogers, whose car overturned several times after it left Arkansas 68 about 9 miles east of Siloam Springs.

Turle Nelson, 70, of Hope, who was struck by a car as she crossed a street in Hope.

Mrs. Edna Marie Harris, of Erie, Kan., who was involved in a two-car collision at Fayetteville.

Labe Owens, 16, of Huntsville, who was in a two-car collision on Arkansas 68 about 2 miles east of Huntsville.

Willie Trotter, 51, of Star City, whose car overturned in Brady.

John Mitchell of Winona, Miss., who was in a car-truck accident just south of Rector on Arkansas 1.

Bill Elskin of Paris, who was fatally injured in a two-car accident on Arkansas 23 about 3 miles south of Ozark.

Revival Here Continues

Revival continues into the second week at First Assembly of God where Rev. Roland Hastie of Texas City, Texas, is the evangelist.

The Rev. Mr. Willhite, pastor of the church, reports that the crowds have been good and that response to the ministry and singing of Rev. and Mrs. Hastie was very favorable. Services are being held nightly at 7:30 except on Saturday.

U.S. May Quit Buying From Bethlehem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources hint the government may reduce its purchases of structural steel framings from the Bethlehem Steel Corp. if the firm refuses to withdraw a $5-a-ton price boost — an increase which Bethlehem claims is not inflationary.

So far, no other steel firms have followed Bethlehem's move for higher prices. President Johnson has called the increase unwarranted and said it could lead to inflation.

But Edmund F. Martin, chairman of second-ranking Bethlehem, said in a statement Sunday night the three-day-old price hike was a result of product improvements that enable lighter-weight steel to do heavier jobs.

"After the price adjustments," Martin said, "the cost of equivalent steel framing for structures will be less than five years ago. This is not inflationary."

Government sources indicated Sunday that a cutback of federal purchases from Bethlehem may be forthcoming if the company refuses to withdraw its increases. The government now consumes about 25 per cent of the total output of structural steel shapes.

The sources said the administration feels that if other major steel firms can be convinced not to raise prices, Bethlehem will rescind its boost.

But if the increase is not rescinded and other company's follow Bethlehem's lead, the officials said, it would be a matter of "grave concern" to top administration officials and Congress.

The source said the tin the steel case, as in earlier price hikes in the aluminum and copper industry, the government does not consider its actions an attempt to control prices.

The price hike, which affects about 7 per cent of the market, was announced Friday for structural steel shapes used in the construction of big buildings, bridges, highways and some equipment. The new prices went into effect Saturday.

Johnson Calls Top Men for Conferences

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called in top advisers today for conferences on Viet Nam and foreign policy, economic conditions and the effects of a steel price increase by the Bethlehem Steel Corp.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was on hand to report on his four-nation tour of the Far East. Humphrey remained for the conferences, attended also by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and George Bundy, Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs.

While House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said the discussion included the State of the Union message Johnson will deliver to the new Congress.

Johnson returned to the White House Sunday night after an extended stay at his ranch in Texas.

Sunday night, Moyers said, Johnson conferred for about two hours with special assistant Joseph Califano on the steel situation.

This morning, Moyers said, Johnson engaged in a general review of the economic situation with Secretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler, Budget Director Charles Schultze and Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

Earlier, Johnson was on the telephone with Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz exploring the possibility of any additional assistance the government might provide in attempting to bring an end to the New York transit strike. Moyers said no conclusions were reached.

The latest word from Johnson's personal physician, Dr. Adm. George C. Burkley, is that Johnson is in "excellent health."

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson did a lot of personal soul-searching before deciding to launch a Viet Nam peace offensive.

Johnson, who returned to the White House Sunday night after a 13-day stay at his Texas ranch, was described by close associates as having spent many hours reviewing and revising before beginning his peace moves.

The President's stance became more evident during the weekend when White House sources disclosed he is prepared to enter peace talks without preconceived solutions or the thought of a quick settlement.

They said the President is willing to seek gradual step-by-step progress — much as occurs in domestic politics when public officials seek to resolve differences on such questions as civil rights.

Johnson's views, as relayed to newsmen, indicated that he concluded, in rethinking his position on Viet Nam, that the United States could do more to promote peace.

For example, he was said to blame himself and his administration for what he regards as a failure to convince Hanoi and Peking of American sincerity in (Continued on Page Two)

Hempstead County counted three deaths during the New Year's Holiday period, the first coming Friday night when a pedestrian was killed in a residential area.

A man and woman were killed in a two-car collision on Highway 67 Saturday.

... otherwise local and state law enforcement officers reported nothing of any significance. ... three deaths are tragic indeed but the traffic all during the holiday on Highway 67 was extremely heavy, night and day.

... in fact several in a position to know said the traffic was the heaviest ever seen on Highway 67.

Well the wonderful Hogs lost and to many it wasn't a surprise. ... its always hard for a team, any team, to get high when they have been on top so long. ... and its even harder to get high for a team that has had a 7-3 season and isn't ranked among the top 10 although that team may be strong as LSU always is. ... naturally it isn't any trouble whatsoever for the underdog to play the best game of the season which LSU had to do to beat the Razorbacks.

... so with everything to lose and nothing to gain, the Porkers lost. ... they are still the best as far as this fan is concerned, just remember all those wonderful 22 victories the Razorbacks have given us.

Fraternity pledges at Henderson State Teachers College include several from this area. ... Theta Xi, Buddy Jordan, Richard Lang and Dwight Walton, all of Hope. ... Robert Erskine, Prescott. ... and Phi Sigma, Jackie Harvey of Prescott while Ed Alford of Nashville pledged Sigma Tau Gamma.

Whitfield Masonic Lodge No. 239 will have regular meeting at the Masonic Hall Tuesday, January 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Many didn't realize the Cotton Bowl Queen, Miss Susan Robins, is really home folks. ... the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Robins of Forrest City, formerly of Ozan and her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Robins, for many years of Ozan but now of Nashville.

Boy Scout Troop 91 meeting tonight at 7:30 at the Lions Building for re-chartering. ... boys age 11 are urged to be present.

Coach Freddie Glaze is organizing a Health Club for men over High School age. ... the first meeting has been called for 7 p.m. Tuesday at Jones Field for Crippled Adults in House.

Calls Present Age One of Excitement

"No age has been so exciting as this one," the Rev. R. B. Moore, Jr. told the Hope Rotary Club last Friday in a meeting at the Town and Country. To discuss the field of education he introduced Elmer Brown, Hempstead County School Supervisor, who pointed out changes in education from 1945 to 1965. This was in regard to the number of teachers in the county, their average salary, and the local, state, and federal tax support given to the schools.

John McRae of Prescott and Ross Howard of Fayetteville were visiting Rotarians, and Linda Wary was also a guest. The club president, Dr. Lester Sizemore, urged all committee chairmen to finish their reports before the official visit January 7 of District Governor Silas Snow. It was reported that approximately $400 was recently collected for the Rotary Hospital for Crippled Adults in Memphis.

AFL Beaten in Annual Draft Game

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

The National and American football leagues, who do not meet on the playing field, have concluded their annual game for the top draft choices in the country.

Final score: NFL 38, AFL 11.

NFL teams finished sweeping the country from end to end at the sites of the weekend college bowl games and wound up with 38 of their first 43 draft eligibles signed while the AFL latched on to only 11 of 23 top draft choices picked on the first three rounds.

The NFL's overwhelming victory in the competition was sealed when such prized catches as Donny Anderson, Johnny Roland, Harold Lucas and Francis Peay signed after concluding their college careers in bowl games.

The Houston Oilers made the big final push for the AFL by signing four tackles, including Glen Ray Hines, George Rice and Dave McCormick for a $1-million package, while Kansas City pulled off a surprise by nabbing Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett.

Anderson, Texas Tech's two-time All-America running back, signed with Green Bay for a reported $600,000 that might be the highest on record — but less than the $887,000 Houston owner Bud Adams said he had offered for Anderson's services.

Roland, Missouri's all-purpose back, received more than $300,000 for signing with the St. Louis Cardinals, who also grabbed Lucas, Michigan State's huge tackle. Peay, Missouri's stand-out tackle and a first-round pick, went with the New York Giants as did Nebraska end Freeman White.

Besides Lucas, NFL teams signed four other second-round selections — Missouri tackle Butch Allison going with Baltimore, Arkansas halfback Jim Lindsay with Minnesota, Florida guard Larry Gagner with Pittsburgh and Nebraska tackle Walter Barnes with Washington.

Anderson and Roland both were high future picks in each league; Peay, Allison and Lindsay were second-round choices in the AFL draft, and Lucas, Gagner and Barnes had been chosen on the AFL's third round.

The Oilers, with money to spend after missing out on Anderson, did just that in signing the four tackles — Hines and Jim Williams of Arkansas and Rice and McCormick of LSU. McCormick was acquired in a trade with Boston.

McCormick, a No. 1 future in the AFL draft last year, was a fifth-round pick of San Francisco. Hines was Houston's No. 2 pick as a future and St. Louis' sixth. Rice was the Oilers' third-round pick this season and Chicago's first in the NFL draft.

Adams, who was specific about the figure he offered Anderson, refused to divulge individual figures about the four-some because "we never give out figures on tackles." But, he said, "we're talking in excess of a million dollars."

Rice was only the second of 16 first-round picks lost by the NFL to the American League. The NFL also signed 11 of 13 second-round eligibles and 13 of 14 third-round picks.

The AFL got five of 10 first-round selections, two of nine from the second round and four of nine from the third round with one player still unsigned.

Johnson Is Back at the White House

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson shifted his base of operations back to the White House today, convinced he's once again in good shape and ready to face the heavy work load ahead.

The latest word from his personal physician, Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, is that Johnson is in "excellent health."

To the unscientific eye of a newsman, Johnson looks and acts much as he did before his Oct. 8 gall bladder-kidney stone operation — except that he has shed a lot of weight. The weight loss is all to the good in Burkley's opinion.

Reporters who were invited to the LBJ Ranch in Texas Sunday to be served eggnog, coffee, cookies and candy by the President and Mrs. Johnson could detect no evidence of his earlier discomfort when he moved slowly, deliberately.

He walked with an easy stride around the ranch lawn, chatting informally with reporters and photographers and joshing some of his guests. He seemed to be in fine spirits.

Johnson had predicted a few weeks after surgery that he would be back at normal operating strength by the start of 1966.

His spirits and health appeared equally good earlier in the day when he attended services at St. Barnabas Episcopal Church in Fredericksburg, some 15 miles from the ranch.

In addition to directing his Viet Nam peace envoys scattered around the world, Johnson still has to finish work on the "big three" messages — State of the Union, budget and economic report — to the next session of Congress beginning Jan. 10.

While Burkley or another White House doctor gives the President at least an eye-once-over every day, his last head-to-toe physical was Dec. 30.

Afterward, Burkley reported through assistant press secretary Joseph Laitin, "there is no indication of any deviation from normal."

Contrasted with his preoperation weight of about 220 pounds, Johnson's present weight is in the 191-192 area. Burkley likes it at that level.

Marking on the side of a ship showing its cargo capacity is known as the "Plimsoll mark."
